IMPORTANT

CHRISTMAS TREE GROWING is attracting many newcomers to the nursery field. For their convenience we have prepared below a list of common names and the botanical equivalent under which they can be found in this catalog.

Seedlings are often available at prices lower than you can grow them. Still more and more Christmas Tree Growers are producing their own. Purchased seedlings are frequently far ahead or far behind the season at their planting site. Had they been grown near the site, their development would have been in step. Also they would be lifted and planted almost simultaneously. These and numerous other factors make for better field survival and stronger plants from home-grown seedlings.

So many letters ask us what should be grown and how. Such questions cannot be answered in a letter. We now list two books which everyone considering seedling production should read:

"Seeding & Planting in the Practice of Forestry" by Toumey & Korstian is a forestry school text book—$8.00

"How to Grow & Sell Christmas Trees" by Lawrence is a newcomer—$3.00

If these books are not available in your library, we shall be glad to secure them for you as quoted. Prices stated are postpaid in the U.S.A. only.

HOME SEED STORAGE

With many Perennial flower seeds on the short side, a few words on seed storage may be welcomed.

The 1958 seed crop is now available for delivery. Your order, for almost all items, will be filled from the same lot whether you order now or this summer.

By ordering now you assure your needs. We can hold for you for later delivery. PREFERABLE is that you take delivery now and place the seed in Mason or similar jars. Seal them with wax and keep in refrigerator till your beds are ready to sow. Do not remove from refrigerator before, then plant and soak down without delay.

Handled in this way helps break dormancy, preserves vitality and makes seed available for sowing when wanted. Results are generally better. According to our reading of Boyce Thompson research, this is the ideal way of handling.

Avoid plastics unless certain they are moisture proof. Do not confuse water proof with moisture proof.

Deep freezing needs more research. For most needs an ordinary home refrigerator suffices.

TREE AND SHRUB SEEDS CAN BE HANDLED IN THE SAME WAY

Ours are Californian grown. An unexpected rain at harvest time caught many varieties drying in the field. This is particularly true of the Grenadin types which are in very short supply. Of some colors we have insufficient supply to see us through the season.

Vegetable Seeds

Last Spring more gardens were planted than the year before. There is every reason to believe that this trend will continue and that there will be a larger demand for plants from home gardeners than ever before.

The National Garden Bureau is planning to spend a considerable sum to promote gardening.

The demand for Vegetable Plants will continue.

We recommend that you have at least three good Tomatoes—two scarlet such as Rutgers and Marglobe, and one Pink Ponderosa or Beefsteak.

If you have critical customers, by all means use our F-1 Hybrid seed. It is really worthwhile. The quality of the fruit's earliness and production are noticeably superior to the product of open-pollinated seed.
